THIS DOCUMENT IS IMPORTANT AND REQUIRES YOUR IMMEDIATE ATTENTION. YOU DO NOT NEED TO TAKE ANY ACTION, BUT WE RECOMMEND THAT YOU READ IT.

Dear Investor

Changes to VT Chelsea Managed ICVC (the “Company”).

We are writing to you as an investor in one of more of the sub-funds of the Company (each a “Fund”), to notify you that we are making some changes to the Company and the Funds. We set out these changes below, along with an explanation of why we are making them. The changes are relevant to your investment in the following share class or classes of the Funds.

THESE CHANGES WILL TAKE EFFECT FROM 15 MAY 2026

We set out a list of the Funds and their share classes below to help you to identify your shareholding.

You do not need to take any action in relation to these changes - they will take place automatically on 15 May 2026.

The changes will have no impact on the way any Fund is managed or invested and will not change the risk profile of any Fund.

1. Change of Depositary and Custodian

Authorised and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA), registration number 145168.
Registered in England No. 2428648 | Registered Address: Level 4, Dashwood House, 69 Old Broad St, London, EC2M 1QS
Business Address: Mains Of Orton, Orton, Moray, IV32 7QE | Tel: +44 (0)330 678 4760

We are changing the Depositary of the Company from NatWest Trustee and Depositary Services Limited (“NWTDS”) to The Bank of New York Mellon (International) Limited (“BNYM”).

What does this change mean?

The Depositary performs an important function in respect of the Company. It is responsible for the custody and safekeeping of the Funds’ assets, providing oversight in respect of the investments of the Funds, and ensuring that the Funds are being valued correctly. BNYM has provided fully independent depositary services for UK funds since 1996.

As of the 15 May 2026, BNYM will provide these services to the Company in place of NWTDS. In addition, while NWTDS delegates its custody and safekeeping services to CACEIS Bank (UK Branch), BNYM does not delegate this service and so it will also act as global custodian of the assets of the Funds.

Why are we making this change?

We are making this change across the entire range of funds we operate to realise cost savings for each of our funds, including the Company.

There will be a reduction in the overall costs and charges paid out of the property of the Funds. Details of the new fees and charges payable by each Fund will be available in the Company’s prospectus which will be republished on the 15 May 2026 to reflect the change of Depositary.

Costs of implementing this change

Some of the costs of making this change will be paid out of the scheme property of the Company. Each Fund will pay £5,500 (including VAT) to cover the project fees of NWTDS and external legal fees. In addition, each Fund will pay for the Custodian’s migration costs. These are dependent on the assets within each Fund at the point of transfer but are expected to be between £1,800 and £2,500 per Fund

We consider that this is a reasonable cost to pay from the scheme property given that there will be an overall and ongoing reduction in costs payable by the Funds as a result of the change.

2. Change to the Company’s anti-dilution policy

The Company currently allows each Fund to charge a dilution levy, which is a charge that may be added to the cost when you buy shares, or taken from your redemption proceeds when you sell shares, in a Fund.

This charge is a mechanism, permitted under the FCA Rules, used to protect existing or remaining investors from the costs incurred as a result of other investors buying into, or selling out of, a Fund.

When an investor buys or sells shares in a Fund, that Fund may need to buy or sell investments to meet that request. This creates costs such as brokerage fees and taxes. A dilution levy is an additional charge applied to the investor’s transaction so that these costs are covered by the investor whose transaction causes them, rather than by all of the investors in that Fund.

However, from the 15 May 2026, we are adopting a different method of protecting investors from the effects of dilution and will be implementing a “dilution adjustment” policy in respect of the Funds. This is sometimes known as “swing pricing”.

By way of comparison to the current policy:

- Unlike a dilution levy, a dilution adjustment is not a separate charge added to a particular sale or redemption, but instead is an increase or decrease to a Fund’s share price.
- Like a dilution levy, it is a mechanism used to protect existing or remaining investors from the trading costs incurred as a result of having to buy or sell investments.

- By adjusting the share price of a Fund, these costs – like a dilution levy – are borne by the investors whose transactions create the costs, helping to ensure that all investors are treated fairly.

Once adopted, the dilution adjustment may be applied to any Fund on any dealing day at our discretion (as authorised corporate director of the Company). However, in the usual course of business, the dilution adjustment will be triggered automatically and on a consistent basis. We may apply a dilution adjustment on any dealing day where we believe it is necessary to protect the interests of shareholders. When dealing in a Fund has taken place but a dilution adjustment has not been applied, there may be an adverse impact on the total value of that Fund.

We expect that the average dilution adjustment applied to a Fund will be between a 0.2% and 1.25% increase or decrease on the mid-market value in normal market conditions. However, the actual rate applied could be higher or lower than this.

We do not consider that investors will be prejudiced by this change of anti-dilution policy, because the existing dilution levy and the new dilution adjustment both serve to protect investors' best interests in the event of large trades in or out of a Fund.

Further details on the operation of the dilution adjustment will be included in the prospectus of the Company which will be adopted on the 15 May 2026.

The costs associated with this change will be borne by Valu-Trac Investment Management Limited.

Further Information

Both NatWest Trustee & Depositary Services Limited, as the current depositary of the Company, and the FCA have been advised of the changes.
