SUB-FUND OVERVIEW

Sub-fund name	VT EPIC UK Equity Market Fund
Size of Sub-fund	£6,812,462
Launch date	29 May 2012
Investment objective and policy	The aim of the Sub-fund is to provide a combination of capital growth and income over the longer term (5 years). The Sub-fund will invest at least 70% in equity securities of companies which are listed in the UK (and which are incorporated, domiciled or have significant operations in the UK). The Sub-fund may also invest in other types of transferable securities (such as bonds and ETFs) and in companies which are not UK listed. At any one time, the Sub-fund may invest in a relatively small number of securities. Use of derivatives will be limited, however, the Sub-fund may invest in derivatives both for investment purposes and for efficient portfolio management. Derivatives may be used to create synthetic short positions in securities. The Sub-fund may also invest in money market instruments, collective investment schemes (including those managed and/or operated by the ACD or Investment Manager), deposits, cash and near cash. Investment in collective investment schemes will also provide the Sub-fund with indirect exposure to other asset classes such as commodities. Save as noted above in respect of a focus on UK listed equities, the Sub-fund will not have any particular geographic or industry or economic sector focus and as such weightings in these may vary as required.
Use of Derivatives, impact on risk profile and volatility:	The Sub-fund may invest in derivatives both for investment purposes and for efficient portfolio management. Use of derivatives will be limited. The use of derivatives may increase the risk profile of the Sub-fund as described in Part 12 of the prospectus, Risk Factors and below. A Sub-fund may employ more sophisticated derivatives longer term in the pursuit of its investment objectives. This means that the net asset value of the Sub-fund may at times be highly volatile (in the absence of compensating investment techniques). However, it is the intention that the Sub-fund owing to its portfolio composition, and/or the portfolio management techniques used, will not have volatility over and above the general market volatility of the markets of their underlying investments although this outcome is not guaranteed and the risk profile of the Sub-fund may be higher than it would otherwise have been as a consequence of the use of derivatives as described above.
Benchmark:	The Sub-fund is not managed to or constrained by a benchmark, and nor does the ACD use a benchmark in order to assess performance. However, the performance of the Sub-fund can be compared with the return of the FTSE 350 (total return in Sterling). The performance of the Sub-fund can be compared against that of the benchmark. This benchmark has been selected as it is considered that this index most closely reflects the investments which the Sub-fund will make (and its risk/return objectives) at the current time. For the avoidance of doubt, the Investment Manager is not bound or influenced by the index when making its decisions and can make investments that are not included in the index.

INVESTMENT ADVISER'S REVIEW

Background

As with the first half of 2022, worries over inflation and the extent of interest rates rises required to combat higher cost pressures, played out during the final two quarters of the year. The war in Ukraine dominated the headlines, exacerbating energy pressures, and adding to the supply and distribution issues already part of the legacy of Brexit. Domestic politics became an increasing distraction in the UK with the messy demise of Boris Johnson, the short lived reign of Liz Truss and the eventual control under Rishi Sunak, all unnerving an already worried equity and bond market.

Rising bond yields, weakening sterling, and falling popularity for the Conservatives reflected the strands of economic and political unrest. As with other economies, UK data proved more resilient than feared with employment, and the housing market looking robust. At the corporate level, results were generally in line or ahead of estimates, with larger corporates able to cope with cost pressures and supply constraints. Mid and small cap companies have found these issues more troublesome.

Performance

The Fund rose 2.84% (F class accumulation) against the FTSE 350 TR move of 5.24%. In a year characterised by significant sector rotation, with quality growth stocks sold in favour of more defensive companies, the final few months of 2022 continued in this trend. The Fund has a bias towards quality, and does not own a number of sectors that performed well (energy, materials, banks). At the stock level, positive contributions came from a broad range of positions , including Ashtead Group, Diploma, 3i Group, Auto Trader Group, Genus and Rightmove. Less helpful were holdings in Treatt, Computacenter, Cake Box holdings, FDM Group, Fevertree Drinks, Molten Ventures, Boohoo Group and London Stock Exchange Group. Encouragingly, during the early weeks of 2023, a move back towards the merits of quality growth is benefiting the Fund materially.

Activity

A quiet period for portfolio activity, but we did sell out of Barratt Holdings. While the company continues to prosper, both in market share and financial strength, there are signs of pressures on costs and volumes, leaving the shares vulnerable to worries over economic and consumer health as we move through the year ahead. In assessing the overall portfolio, in the wake of some significant weaker share price performances, we felt comfortable that our holdings retain the characteristics of strong cash generation, financial health, meaningful market share and trusted management, so we have been reluctant to make too many changes. The corporate results delivered over the period added to our conviction.

Outlook

Concerns remain over the medium term impact of higher inflation levels and related interest rate rises on global economic growth. The Russian/ Ukraine conflict shows little sign of resolution, with its dislocation still rippling through related economies. There is little doubt that global growth will be slower in 2023, as IMF adjustments have indicated, but it is less clear when the current interest rate cycle will steady. We are beginning to see some signs that inflation may have peaked, and many of the supply issues are now working their way out of the system. Companies have proved resilient, and our focus on high quality stocks will allow us to weave our way through a problematic year. The portfolio represents very good value, and the UK equity market remains attractive when set against its peers.

Performance

During the second half of 2022, the first half of the Company's financial year, the net asset value of the Class R income shares fell 0.43%. On a total return basis, the return was -0.35%. For comparative purposes, the MSCI AC World Index gained 3.0%. The Fund's long term strategy of investing roughly 40% of its assets in Asian equities was unhelpful during this period with the MSCI AC Asia ex Japan Index declining by 3.4%.

After a very difficult calendar first half of 2022, when the net asset value of the Class R income shares fell 21.7% (-20.3% in total return terms), the returns over the past six months have, at least, demonstrated some stability. The violent swing away from growth and toward value stocks during 2022 (MSCI World Value Index rose 5.4% while MSCI World Growth Index fell 20.6%) did not fit well with our investment style and process. We continue search for, and purchase, high quality stocks with impressive profitability metrics – be it return on equity, return on assets, or return on invested capital – and solid growth prospects.

Portfolio Activity

During the period under review we sold the position in Meituan (e-commerce, food delivery) where the likely move to profitability was pushed further down the line, Johnson Electric (industrial, micromotors) where rising input costs impacted profitability, Kone Oyj (industrial, elevators) which is also seeing intense pressure on margins and MY EG Services (e-commerce, Government Services) given the likely downturn in its COVID related businesses which had driven revenue growth for the past few years. We opened a new position in Yadea Group, China's leading manufacturer and distributor of two wheeler electric scooters and motorbikes, and topped up a number of existing holdings including Minth Group, Larsen & Toubro, ZTE, Hanon Systems and Nvidia.

Outlook

The abrupt shift in China's zero-COVID policy in early November 2022 has seen Chinese equity prices rally sharply. The policy U-turn looks increasingly like an outright pursuit of herd immunity and, while data is patchy to say the least, there are early signs that the first wave has already peaked while reported mobility and congestion measures have risen substantially. In addition, a long-awaited central government package to provide support to the property market was announced in mid-November. The central government will inject an estimated Rmb1.3tn (approximately US$2tn) to ease the extreme liquidity concerns plaguing private developers. These measures are likely to see consumer confidence recover sharply.

Our expectation is that the savings amassed during the pandemic lockdowns, and an improvement in consumer confidence, will fuel a rapid rebound in domestic consumption. We note that China's household savings rose from 30% of disposable income in 2019 to an estimated 32.3% in the third quarter of 2022. Put another way, household bank deposits have grown by 44% since the start of 2020. We expect rising consumption to power the economy in 2022 and note that the portfolio owns many companies - listed in Hong Kong, China and elsewhere - that will benefit from this recovery.

Finally, we note that China's renewed international charm offensive continues with, for example, the ban on Australian coal imports recently lifted. Chinese Foreign Minister Qin Gang offered effusive praise of Americans after stepping down as China's top envoy to Washington, signalling that ties between the world's biggest economies appear to be warming. The return of China to the global economy will benefit all both Asian and Western economies as 2023 unfolds.

After the disappointing moves in global markets in 2022, we start 2023 with some continuing uncertainties. These range from the Ukraine conflict, elevated inflation, the upward drift of interest rates, concerns that a number of Western economies may drift into recession and, finally, fears that corporate earnings may disappoint. The better news is that the 'froth', evident as always with the benefit of hindsight, across global markets has disappeared and, in consequence, valuations are much less elevated. The promise of a recovery in China, and our expectation that our highly profitable and high quality portfolio will continue to deliver, leaves us optimistic as we enter 2023.
