We are changing the Depository of the Company from NatWest Trustee and Depository Services Limited (“NWTDS”) to The Bank of New York Mellon (International) Limited (“BNYM”).

What does this change mean?

The Depository performs an important function in respect of the Company. It is responsible for the custody and safekeeping of the Funds’ assets, providing oversight in respect of the investments of the Funds, and ensuring that the Funds are being valued correctly. BNYM has provided fully independent depository services for UK funds since 1996.

As of the 17 April 2026, BNYM will provide these services to the Company in place of NWTDS. In addition, while NWTDS delegates its custody and safekeeping services to CACEIS Bank (UK Branch), BNYM does not delegate this service and so it will also act as global custodian of the assets of the Funds.

Why are we making this change?

We are making this change across the entire range of funds we operate to realise cost savings for each of our funds, including the Company.

There will be a reduction in the overall costs and charges paid out of the property of the Funds. Details of the new fees and charges payable by each Fund will be available in the Company’s prospectus which will be republished on the 17 April 2026 to reflect the change of Depository.

Costs of implementing this change

Some of the costs of making this change will be paid out of the scheme property of the Company. We expect that £5,500 (including VAT) will be payable per Fund, which covers the project fees of NWTDS as well as external legal fees.

We consider that this is a reasonable cost to pay from the scheme property given that there will be an overall and ongoing reduction in costs payable by the Funds as a result of the change.

Further Information

Both NatWest Trustee & Depository Services Limited, as the current depository of the Company, and the FCA have been advised of the changes.

We would remind you that no action is required by you as these changes will come into effect on 17 April 2026. If you have any queries about these changes, please do not hesitate to contact us on 0330 678 4760, although please note we do not offer financial advice. Your call may be recorded for training or monitoring purposes.

Yours faithfully
