MORAY PLACE INVESTMENT COMPANY

INTERIM REPORT AND FINANCIAL STATEMENTS for the six months to 31 March 2020 (unaudited)

ABOUT YOUR COMPANY

Moray Place Investment Company (MPIC) was formed on 2 May 2012 as an open-ended investment company and started trading on 15 May 2012. It is authorised and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority in the UK as a non-UCITS retail scheme.

The company is intended to be a long-term investment vehicle for like-minded individuals. It is low-cost, straightforward and free of the conflicts of interest that bedevil the money management industry.

MPIC's objective is to preserve and then grow the purchasing power of its investors' capital. The investment manager believes that it is most meaningful to assess MPIC's progress over a full economic cycle, which is typically five to ten years. Over this time frame useful comparators include UK consumer price inflation, the yield on long-dated gilts, and equity indices.

MPIC expects to achieve its objective primarily through owning shares in established companies listed on stock exchanges around the world. It will not borrow, use derivatives, short-sell securities, or invest in property directly.

The investment approach is uncomplicated, disciplined and patient. The investment manager also believes that it is conservative, if idiosyncratic. MPIC is not designed to appeal to a broad constituency. It is only suitable for investors who can evaluate the merits and risks of such an approach: if you cannot, or it makes you uncomfortable, or it simply does not suit your psychology, you should not invest.

LETTER TO SHAREHOLDERS

Dear fellow shareholders

The company's objective is to protect and grow the purchasing power of its investors' capital. Over an economic cycle, I believe that the most likely means of achieving that goal is by the undisturbed ownership of superior businesses. MPIC uses stock exchanges as a convenient means of buying a careful selection of businesses. However, while stock exchanges are convenient, their share price fluctuations can be distracting.

The current situation is certainly distracting. We are in a humanitarian crisis. The measures taken to contain the COVID-19 pandemic have created an economic crisis. It is a time of fear, tragedy and stress.

The current situation is unprecedented. Yet, in the past century or so, humanity has faced two world wars, the Spanish flu epidemic, the great depression, a global experiment with communism, the threat of nuclear annihilation, two oil price shocks in a decade, the World Trade Center attack, and the global financial crisis. All these events were unprecedented. Things that have never happened before, happen all the time.

The current situation is stressful. Stress shortens our time horizons and intensifies our perception of risk. This instinctive reaction is helpful when faced with immediate physical danger. It is less helpful when faced with sustained psychological anxiety, which is common when investing. To improve my decisions and MPIC's outcomes, I adhere to the Guiding Principles outlined in my first letter to shareholders and restated in each subsequent annual report. They form a mental framework that aids me when the situation is confusing, uncertain and stressful. Some of those principles are worth re-emphasising.

- Purposeful inactivity. I continue to invest so to be untroubled were financial markets to close for five years.
- Long-term optimism about man's instinct to think, adapt and satisfy needs. This is the source of durable wealth. Rising living standards are largely derived from accumulated knowledge and new ideas, which is only constrained by human ingenuity and imagination.
- Politicians promise too much. In exchange for obvious short-term benefits they willingly incur less obvious long-term costs. This undermines the value of government-backed promises, such as paper money and sovereign bonds. One consequence is inflation, which I believe to be at source a political phenomenon.
- Owning a careful selection of businesses allows the investor to benefit from the general tendency for living standards to improve, while simultaneously protecting his capital from inflation.
- Publicly listed businesses experience dramatic declines in their share prices at unpredictable intervals. What is predictable is that they will experience dramatic declines. Widespread share price declines of over 30% have occurred in most decades. I do not think MPIC can avoid these characteristic downturns in business and stockmarket cycles, but it is designed to survive them without undue distress.

John Templeton was a great international investor in the twentieth century. After a lifetime of investing during unprecedented events, Templeton concluded, "The best time to invest is when you have money. This is because history suggests that it is not timing which matters, but time."
