Notes

- (1) A class accumulation shares, net of fees priced at midday UK time, net dividends reinvested. Source: Valu-Trac Investment Management Ltd.
- (2) MSCI World Index in Sterling, net dividends reinvested, priced at close of business US time, source: MSCI Inc. The MSCI World Index is a generic portfolio of global equities across all sectors and, as such, is a fair comparison given the Fund is also global and sector agnostic.
- (3) iBoxx GBP Gilts Index, source: Refinitiv.
- (4) UK Pound Sterling Overnight Index SONIA, source: Refinitiv.
- (5) A (retail) class AMC 0.9% / I (institutional) class AMC 0.7%. (I-class for sums over £1m or at manager's discretion).
- (6) This figure will reduce if the fund increases in size: £30,000 of fixed costs over £10m = 0.30% but only 0.03% over £100m, for example.
- (7) The fund normally only buys and sells positions once a month to keep trading costs as low as possible.

The investment objective of the Fund is to provide capital growth over the medium to long term. The Fund will aim to meet its objectives by employing two primary investment techniques:

1. True diversification which may include exposure to equities, fixed income, commodities, real estate and infrastructure in different jurisdictions throughout the world, primarily using Exchange Traded Funds.
2. Formula-based trend following.

Monthly Commentary (August 2022)

At the beginning of the month our signals gave us three trades: We bought into Asian equities (ex-Japan) for the first time in several months and UK equities for the first time since November 2020. We also exited our European high yield bond position.

Financial markets continue to face a laundry list of concerns: High inflation persists, and central banks continue to be hawkish as a result. The UK raised interest rates another 0.5% at the beginning of the month and US Fed Chairman, Jerome Powell gave a speech at Jackson Hole late in the month that led US futures markets to price in a high probability of a 0.75% increase to US rates the next time the Fed meets later in September.

Interest rate rises are being felt most keenly in the housing market where US new home sales fell heavily in July, the UK housing market showed the first signs of cooling, and the Chinese property market is struggling. Equity markets were impacted too, with the S&P giving up 4.1% in the month after a buoyant July and the MSCI Europe ex-UK down 4.7%. We continue to be defensively positioned with nearly 60% of the fund in cash or equivalent risk-free assets. This stance enabled us to have another month of small forward progress with the fund up 0.2% in the month.

It will be interesting to see what the last four months of the year brings. There are plenty of reasons to be fearful with inflation, interest rates tightening, a cost-of-living crisis in the UK and beyond, and the conflict in Ukraine rumbling on. We would dearly love to see such problems resolved but whilst financial markets continue to be volatile and fundamentally pessimistic, we hope that our defensive positioning will continue to serve us reasonably well.

Key Risks

- Counterparty risk: The Fund can conclude various transactions with contractual partners. If a contractual partner becomes insolvent, it can no longer or can only partly settle unpaid debts owed to the Fund.
  - Market Risk: External factors can cause an entire asset class to decline in value which would result in a decrease in the value of investments. The Fund aims to mitigate this risk by investing in all major asset classes in many geographic regions and owning assets which are often negatively correlated.
  - Concentration Risk: The Fund seeks to minimise concentration risk by owning
- a wide selection of Exchange Traded Funds which themselves own many hundreds of underlying assets.
- Liquidity Risk: adverse market conditions may affect the ability to sell certain assets when necessary. The Fund invests nearly exclusively in large, liquid ETFs so liquidity risk should be significantly lower than in a more conventional actively managed fund investing in single assets.
