- (5) A (retail) class AMC 0.9% / I (institutional) class AMC 0.7%. (I-class for sums over £1m or at manager's discretion).
- (6) This figure will reduce if the fund increases in size: £30,000 of fixed costs over £10m = 0.30% but only 0.03% over £100m, for example.
- (7) The fund normally only buys and sells positions once a month to keep trading costs as low as possible.

The investment objective of the Fund is to provide capital growth over the medium to long term. The Fund will aim to meet its objectives by employing two primary investment techniques:

1. True diversification which may include exposure to equities, fixed income, commodities, real estate and infrastructure in different jurisdictions throughout the world, primarily using Exchange Traded Funds.
2. Formula-based trend following.

Monthly Commentary (January 2026)

There was a fair bit of volatility in January and yet more geopolitical jiggery pokery with the Trump administration taking President Maduro of Venezuela and a fair bit of Sturm und Drang with respect to Greenland too. These concerns helped gold and commodities to continue their run but, happily, equity markets continued to take such things in their stride, with global equities up c. 3% in the month and emerging markets up very strongly.

We remained fully invested through January which served us well given the environment, and the fund added 2.7% during the month as a result. In equities, the trend for investors to diversify away from US large caps continued. Small caps had a strong month in the US and Europe and, reassuringly, much of the continued strength across equities in many parts of the world has come from strong earnings rather than rising valuations.

This all having been said, investors should continue to be mindful of government bond markets and inflation given the sheer levels of outstanding debt globally, particularly given how much of that will need to be refinanced at structurally higher interest rates. We would remind readers that our fixed income exposure, when we have any, comes via corporate bonds and emerging market "govvies". We feel this is a better place to be than the "return free risk" we perceive in so many developed market bonds. For now, we will hope that financial markets will continue to move along on the back of fairly solid fundamentals and take geopolitical volatility in their stride too.

Key Risks

- Counterparty risk: The Fund can conclude various transactions with contractual partners. If a contractual partner becomes insolvent, it can no longer or can only partly settle unpaid debts owed to the Fund.
  - Market Risk: External factors can cause an entire asset class to decline in value which would result in a decrease in the value of investments. The Fund aims to mitigate this risk by investing in all major asset classes in many geographic regions and owning assets which are often negatively correlated.
  - Concentration Risk: The Fund seeks to minimise concentration risk by owning a wide selection of Exchange Traded Funds which themselves own many hundreds of underlying assets.
  - Liquidity Risk: adverse market conditions may affect the ability to sell certain assets when necessary. The Fund invests nearly exclusively in large, liquid ETFs so liquidity risk should be significantly lower than in a more conventional actively managed fund investing in single assets.
