Notes

- (1) A class accumulation shares, net of fees priced at midday UK time, net dividends reinvested. Source: Valu-Trac Investment Management Ltd.
- (2) MSCI World Index in Sterling, net dividends reinvested, priced at close of business US time, source: MSCI Inc. The MSCI World Index is a generic portfolio of global equities across all sectors and, as such, is a fair comparison given the Fund is also global and sector agnostic.
- (3) iBoxx GBP Gilts Index, source: Refinitiv.
- (4) UK Pound Sterling Overnight Index SONIA, source: Refinitiv.
- (5) A (retail) class AMC 0.9% / I (institutional) class AMC 0.7%. (I-class for sums over £1m or at manager's discretion).
- (6) This figure will reduce if the fund increases in size: £30,000 of fixed costs over £10m = 0.30% but only 0.03% over £100m, for example.
- (7) The fund normally only buys and sells positions once a month to keep trading costs as low as possible.

The investment objective of the Fund is to provide capital growth over the medium to long term. The Fund will aim to meet its objectives by employing two primary investment techniques:

1. True diversification which may include exposure to equities, fixed income, commodities, real estate and infrastructure in different jurisdictions throughout the world, primarily using Exchange Traded Funds.
2. Formula-based trend following.

Monthly Commentary (March 2021)

March was the first month since May 2020 where our signals gave us no substantive trades - i.e. to exit an existing position or enter a new one. As a result, we spent the month with the same long positions in 21 of our 24 silos - only "out" of our $ corporate bond, gold and global infrastructure silos and in everything else - as we had held since early February. Happily, this positioning saw the fund up 1.3% by month end.

In the first quarter of the year, equity markets saw a rotation out of growth stocks and into value. Higher bond yields have been good for financials and higher commodity prices good for the sectors which obviously benefit from that - particularly with oil up more than 20% since the beginning of the year. Smaller companies also had a good quarter and Europe and Japan were ahead of the S&P for the first time in a while. This was all quite refreshing after such a long period of "winner takes all" outperformance by the big US tech / "FAANG" names and resulting equity market concentration. Financial markets seem to be rather more optimistic about global growth - no doubt partly driven in by the success of vaccine programs, in anglo-America at least. Mr Biden's enormous stimulus package is probably another tailwind.

As the world continues to come out of the coronavirus crisis, slowly but surely, it would be nice to think that we may see a broad-based global boom as things gradually normalise, travel restrictions are lifted and everyone rushes to do all those things we have not been permitted to do for so long. A long and reasonably strong move in equities and commodities that could result from this would be nice to see with the fund positioned as it is currently.

Key Risks

- Counterparty risk: The Fund can conclude various transactions with contractual partners. If a contractual partner becomes insolvent, it can no longer or can only partly settle unpaid debts owed to the Fund.
 - Market Risk: External factors can cause an entire asset class to decline in value which would result in a decrease in the value of investments. The Fund aims to mitigate this risk by investing in all major asset classes in many geographic regions and owning assets which are often negatively correlated.
 - Concentration Risk: The Fund seeks to minimise concentration risk by owning
- a wide selection of Exchange Traded Funds which themselves own many hundreds of underlying assets.
- Liquidity Risk: adverse market conditions may affect the ability to sell certain assets when necessary. The Fund invests nearly exclusively in large, liquid ETFs so liquidity risk should be significantly lower than in a more conventional actively managed fund investing in single assets.
- For full details of the Fund's risks, please see the prospectus which may be obtained from the Fund's website.
