Comment:

In the second quarter of 2021 the Fund rose by 5.3% (Class B Net Income Share Class). This compares with the PIMFA Balanced Index rise of 4.9%. The half year gains were 6.3% and 7.1% respectively. Stock markets continued to make some progress fueled by ongoing support from low interest rates and quantitative easing as well as the prospect of recovering economies when the pandemic gradually declines.

The portfolio has significant exposure to Baillie Gifford managed trusts (Monks and Scottish Mortgage). We therefore sold out of Keystone Positive Change Trust which appointed Baillie Gifford as their new manager because we consider we have sufficient exposure to one manager already. In its place we started a new holding in Independent Investment Trust which stood at a bit of a discount and has a good long term track record.

Most holdings made some progress this quarter. Standout gains were seen from Scottish Mortgage Trust (+17%), North Atlantic Smaller Companies Trust (+18%), Hansa Trust (+19%) and Utilico Emerging Markets Investment Trust (+13%). After a strong run, Ruffer Investments paused for breath and Morant Wright Japan continued to be a dull performer (-5%). We retain both.

Inflation is higher than central banks forecast though they continue to insist this will be "transient". We are less sure and our defensive holdings are all biased to protect against inflation.
