LETTER TO INVESTORS

This letter was first written in 2014. It remains relevant to anyone thinking of investing in the fund.

Dear Potential Investor,

Warren Buffet calls 'The Intelligent Investor' by Benjamin Graham (1949) 'the best book on investing ever written'. It ends 'To achieve satisfactory investment results is easier than most people realise; to achieve superior results is harder than it looks'.

If you want a satisfactory return, then things have improved since 1949. How? One word: Vanguard.

Vanguard Group, founded by Jack Bogle, pioneered index funds. These deliver market returns at very low cost. Yes, you get the ups and downs. But, prepared for these by the excellent Vanguard website, you should stay the course and earn a satisfactory return.

Thistledown aims for a superior return? How? By dealing with Mr Market, the manic-depressive.

Mr Market is a mythical character from 'The Intelligent Investor'. He is manic-depressive and as his mood swings so does the price he offers to buy and sell parts of businesses (shares). Happy he offers silly prices for our shares; sad, he'll sell at silly prices.

Who is Mr. Market and how can we avoid being like him?

He doesn't exist, but stands for 'groupthink' in the financial market. Think of the Dotcom mania of 1999/2000, or the financial boom and bust of 2008/09. One year the crowd believes good times will last forever, the next that the recession will never end. Thistledown does its best to stand apart, focussing on what a company is worth, its intrinsic value, not the market price which the crowd determines. We aim to buy below intrinsic value. We don't try to forecast in a conventional sense: 'forecasts tell you more about the forecaster than the future' as Warren Buffet wrote. But broadly we believe that intrinsic value acts as a magnet, which pulls prices to it over time. A view supported by the work of the Nobel Economist Robert Shiller*.

The chef eats here.

We have over 90% of our equity investments in the fund. But, although this approach sounds easy, it isn't. Ignoring current option is hard, results aren't guaranteed and superior returns are not delivered consistently. Yet this approach is behind numerous successful investment partnerships. And it is supported by academic studies showing cheap companies and cheap markets provide better returns than expensive companies or markets.

Yours sincerely,
Dominic Fisher

INVESTMENT MANAGER'S ANNUAL REVIEW

Introduction

'In 2019 the fund gained 12% while the UK stock market rose 18.4%. Last year I commented that Jerome Powell, the Chairman of the Federal Reserve, appeared 'extremely sensitive to market reaction'. That should have been a clue: 'Don't fight the Fed'. The losses of 2018 are history and 2019 has been a bonanza for investors.'

This report was going to open with the lines above, but things have moved on!

Activity

Last year I wrote:

'There are few safe investments for traditional investors today.

In a crisis, there may be none. For this reason, and despite the devastating critique of investing in gold offered by Warren Buffett in his recent shareholder's letter, I expect to add exposure to gold while taking on more equity risk in the portfolio in the next year. It is more probable that the authorities are correct than not. In which case, equities outside the US offer reasonable value. If they are wrong, then the 'safe' assets that have formed a large part of this portfolio will be threatened while genuine alternatives outside the control of the monetary authorities should prosper.'

The largest single purchase was the ETFS Physical Gold Trust as hinted at last year. The opportunity cost of holding gold is low, given the minimal yield on bonds. I don't see this as an investment but as an insurance policy that may pay off if the current exceptional interest rate policies produce unexpected results. We also own shares in Sprott. This Canadian investment manager's main investment product is linked to gold.

The next two investments by size were Aberforth Smaller Companies Investment Trust and BlackRock Frontiers Investment Trust.

Aberforth Partners, the managers of the Aberforth trust are value investors. They have a long history of investing in UK smaller companies. We invested at a valuation that in the past, has produced double-digit returns for investors in the following decade.

The Frontiers Trust does not have such a long record, but the earnings of its investment portfolio have grown at 10% per annum for the last five years, and the trust yielded 4.5% at the time of investment. Despite this earnings performance, the trust shares had barely moved in five years. This suggests that the valuation of the companies in the portfolio had fallen over 30%. Given the companies are all based in developing economies with high growth rates there is a good chance that this record of growing profits can be maintained over the longer term. If this record is maintained the shares should eventually follow the earnings.

'Investing in cheap markets' is not a catchy slogan. It seems too simplistic. It is not difficult to work out that UK smaller companies and frontier market companies are cheap. But this fund tries where possible to keep it simple. And, the simple fact is that cheap markets have a habit of delivering good returns.

The next five investments were of approximately the same size; Bayer, Dart Group, Jardine Strategic, Krka dd Novo Mesto and Royal Bank of Scotland (RBS). The quarterly reports outline the reasons for each position. Seeing them listed, I hope it is clear how different the economics of their various businesses are. Dart Group and RBS are UK businesses, but there the similarity stops. RBS traded at a discount to its assets and has been shrinking for years. Dart has grown hugely at the expense of travel business competitors but was priced lowly for a company that has been able to grow strongly. Bayer and Krka are both pharmaceutical companies but with very different profiles. Bayer has been beaten down over worries about potential liabilities associated with the weed killer glyphosate. Krka makes generic pharmaceuticals and suffered from its exposure to Eastern Europe. Finally, Jardine Strategic owns a portfolio of business in Asia and trades at a substantial discount to its investments following poor business results in recent years. I expect these companies to be profitable investments, obviously, but it is also important that their future results depend on developments in different areas. Again, this is a simple approach to diversification, but one that has been successful to date.

Administration

There were three changes last year that you were informed about at the time. First the annual management charge was reduced to 0.6% per annum from January 1st. Second, I will focus solely on the management of the fund. In the ten years since establishing Thistledown, I have tried several times to find a business partner. This has proved unsuccessful and time consuming, despite quite a number of attempts. Third Thistledown is now an appointed representative of Valu-trac Investment Management and pays them to manage compliance and relations with the Financial Conduct Authority. This saves time and money, with some of this reflected in the lower fee.

Commentary

I planned this report in January. I expected to write of another 'Groundhog Day' with high valuations in the US and low-interest rates pushing investors to add risk to achieve returns. Although the coronavirus had appeared in China, I thought that like many similar scares during my investing career; Y2K, SARS, it would fizzle out.

Wrong

The virus has spread, and Saudi Arabia has flooded the oil market. As I come to complete this report to you on March 12th, the stock market is down 29% and the fund down around 17% since the beginning of the year. This smaller loss than the market (professionals call this performance, but the word seems entirely inappropriate) is a partial vindication of a strategy to hold cash as 'insurance'. I wrote last year that the markets occasionally have truly dreadful periods; in financial jargon, there are 'fat tails'. These periods, though rare, are so unsettling that it is sensible to hold reserves. These reserves prevent forced selling and allow a manager to benefit from fear; 'buying from the manic-depressive Mr. Market'. The fund has not been a forced seller, and it has the means to take advantage of lower prices.

This is not to say that I had any insight other than valuations were high which made markets vulnerable.

The smaller loss than the market would have been even smaller had value shares done better. They have not, they have performed worse. In the United States the Russell index of value shares has fallen 29%, while the growth index has fallen 19%, other markets are similar. Cheaper valuations and reasonable dividend streams should protect capital. That has not happened. But I think that the strategy remains sound. Here are a couple of examples from the portfolio to illustrate why.

I described the reasons for investing in the BlackRock Frontiers Investment Trust above. The share price has fallen 35% this year. I monitor the largest holdings in the trust as reported at 30th of September. As I write the underlying portfolio is trading at eight times historic earnings and has grown its equity at around 9% per annum for the last five years. If the trust pays the same dividend as last year, it yields just under 7%. I do not think that the prospects for frontier markets have changed enough to justify this move. Frontier markets benefit considerably from lower oil prices, their stock markets were cheap and are now much cheaper and they have young populations. You could argue that recent developments have increased their attractiveness. The market disagrees clearly.

Krka is a company based in Slovenia with a long history as a generic pharmaceutical manufacturer. The share price has fallen 25% this year. The pharmaceutical business is not cyclical, and the company makes a 15% return on equity, has substantial cash reserves and now trades at eight times earnings, a significant discount to the broad market. A business with these high-quality characteristics should trade at a premium to the stock market. That it is not shows again that the market disagrees.

These examples demonstrate that there are increasing opportunities. These beg the question when will the fund move to take advantage of them. The answer is slowly. The current decline is beginning to address the excess valuations and stretched balance sheets that have worried me for some years. But I don't think these, combined with the twin shocks of the coronavirus and the oil price collapse, can be dealt with quickly. There is an adage that the market climbs the escalator and comes down in the elevator. I would rather miss the first few months of the escalator but over the next year I expect to invest substantially more than over the last four years.

Thank you as ever for your interest and investment.

Name of Sub-Fund	VT Thistle-down Income Fund
Size of Sub-Fund	£14,695,239
Launch date	14 July 2014
Investment objective and policy	To provide income while investing to provide some capital growth over the medium to long term. The Fund will seek to achieve its investment objective by investing principally in equities. The Fund may also invest in exchange traded funds ("ETFs"), fixed income securities and other collective investment schemes. The ACD will apply a 'value' based policy when selecting equities for the Fund's portfolio. This means that an asset will be included in the portfolio when the Investment Adviser's analysis and expertise suggests it will provide a total return over the full investment cycle or longer that is higher than the total return that could be expected from UK equity investments over the same period (i.e. between 5 and 10 year horizons). Achieving these target returns for each equity investment or for the Fund's portfolio as a whole is highly uncertain as equities are volatile assets and are expected to be the principal portfolio investment. The ACD will hold ETF's, fixed income securities, collective investment schemes and cash and near cash when it cannot identify enough opportunities to achieve a suitable spread of equity investments with the appropriate 'value' characteristics. The ACD will also seek to reduce investment risk by diversifying the Fund's investments across industries and countries. It will not consider the size of company or market important to its investment decision provided the ACD and the Investment Adviser believe the relevant investment will diversify risk in the portfolio. Investments in assets denominated in foreign currencies may be hedged into sterling. The ACD must ensure that the Fund maintains sufficient cash for the purposes of maintaining liquidity. This portion of the sub-fund's assets must be represented by cash or similarly liquid assets (which may include money market instruments, deposits or units in collective investment schemes) at all times. The Fund's portfolio and mix of asset classes will be rebalanced from time to time at the absolute discretion of the ACD.

Authorised Corporate Director's Report

In our opinion, the information given in the Authorised Corporate Director's Report for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements.

Responsibilities of the Authorised Corporate Director for the financial statements

As explained more fully in the Statement of Authorised Corporate Director's Responsibilities set out on page 9, the Authorised Corporate Director is responsible for the preparation of the financial statements in accordance with the applicable framework and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view. The Authorised Corporate Director is also responsible for such internal control as they determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Authorised Corporate Director is responsible for assessing the Company's and each sub-funds' ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Authorised Corporate Director either intends to liquidate the Company or individual sub-fund or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities. This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Use of this report

This report, including the opinions, has been prepared for and only for the Company's shareholders as a body in accordance with paragraph 4.5.12 of the Collective Investment Schemes sourcebook as required by paragraph 67(2) of the Open-Ended Investment Companies Regulations 2001 and for no other purpose. We do not, in giving these opinions, accept or assume responsibility for any other purpose or to any other person to whom this report is shown or into whose hands it may come save where expressly agreed by our prior consent in writing.

Opinion on other matters prescribed by the Collective Schemes sourcebook

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1 Accounting policies

(a) Basis of Accounting

The financial statements have been prepared in compliance with the Statement of Recommended Practice for Authorised Funds (SORP) issued by the Investment Association (IA) in May 2014 and FRS 102. There have been no changes to comparatives following the adoption of this SORP. The functional currency of the fund is Sterling.

In respect of the AC shares class for each sub-fund, the following aspects of the Statement of Recommended Practice relating to the Authorised Funds have not been disclosed due to the Manager's view that this would require voluminous amounts of disclosures and would not assist the users of the financial statements;

- > a comparative table with the information required to be disclosed in Chapter 4 of the CIS Sourcebook being;
- > the net asset value of each notional unit in each AC class in issue at the beginning of the year;
- > the high/low prices of each notional unit in each AC class in issue; and
- > the net income distributed for each notional unit in each AC class in issue.

Instead, tables have been included which disclose this information for a single representative share within the AC share class. This is in accordance with the FCA's direction and modification of the applicable rule in Chapter 4 of the CIS Sourcebook as it applies to the VT Thistledown ICVC.

(b) Basis of Preparation

The Financial statements of the Company have been prepared on a going concern basis.

(c) Basis of valuation of investments

The investments of the Sub-Funds have been valued at bid market values at 4.30pm on the last business day of the accounting period. Market value is defined by the SORP as fair value which generally is bid value of each security, excluding any accrued interest in the case of fixed and floating rate securities. Any unquoted or suspended investments are valued at the Corporate Director's discretion with reference to the fair value pricing policy and are disclosed within the notes to the financial statements of the relevant Sub-Fund.

(d) Recognition of revenue

All income from Collective Investment Schemes are credited to income when they are quoted ex dividend. All distributions from accumulation holdings in Collective Investment Schemes are treated as revenue. Equalisation on distributions received from Collective Investment Schemes is treated as capital. All revenue is recognised at a gross amount that includes withholding taxes but excludes any other taxes such as tax credits. Rebate income is treated as revenue and recognised on an accrual basis. Gains and losses, including exchange differences in valuation of investments held at balance sheet date, including unrealised exchange differences, are treated as capital.

(e) Expenses

All expenses of the Sub-Funds are charged to income with exception of costs relating to the purchase and sale of investments and Stamp Duty costs, which are charged to capital.

(f) Current Taxation

The charge for taxation is based at the current rate on taxable revenue for the period less allowable expenses. UK dividend income is disclosed net of any related tax credit.

(g) Deferred Taxation

Deferred tax is provided for on timing differences expected to reverse in the period.

(h) Distributions

The Sub-Fund has both income and accumulation units. Each Sub-fund goes ex-dividend daily and pays any income available to the shareholder on a quarterly basis, two weeks in arrears as a dividend. Should the expenses exceed the income then no distribution shall be made to the shareholder and the shortfall will be met by the capital account of the Sub-Fund.

(i) Allocation of income and expenses to multiple share classes

A proportion account is held for each unit class within each Sub-Fund. In order to calculate the unit price of each unit class the Manager shall determine a proportionate interest of that class in the assets and income of the Sub-Fund as its allocated share. The Authorised Corporate Director's periodic charge is a specific expense to each unit class.

(j) Unclaimed distributions

If a distribution remains unclaimed for a period of six years after it has become due, it will be forfeited and will revert to the relevant Sub-Fund (or if that no longer exists the Fund Manager). Application to claim distributions that have not been paid should be made to the Manager before this six year period has elapsed.

(b) Factors affecting current tax charge for the year

The tax assessed for the year is lower than the standard rate of corporation tax in the UK for an open-ended investment company (20.00% ).

The differences are explained below:

Net revenue before UK corporation taxation	280,013	253,728
Corporation tax at 20.00%	56,003	50,746

Effects of:

Movement in excess management expenses	21,831	27,922
Current taxation (note 5a)	12,005	14,908

( c ) Provision for deferred taxation

At 31 December 2019 there is a potential deferred tax asset of £114,224 (31 December 2018: £92,393) in relation to surplus management expenses. It is unlikely the company will generate sufficient taxable profits in the future to utilise this amount and therefore no deferred tax asset has been recognised.

11 Financial instruments

In pursuing its investment objective as stated on page 4, the Company holds a number of financial instruments. The Company's financial instruments, other than derivatives, comprise securities and other investments, cash balances, debtors and creditors that arise directly from its operations, for example, in respect of sales and purchases awaiting settlement, amounts receivable for issues and payable for redemptions and debtors for accrued revenue.

The main risks arising from the Company's financial instruments, those of its underlying holdings and the ACD's policies for managing these risks are summarised below. These policies have been applied throughout the year.

Market price risk

Market price risk is the risk that the value of the Company's investment holdings will fluctuate as a result of changes in market prices caused by factors other than interest rate or foreign currency movement. Market price risk arises mainly from uncertainty about future prices of financial instruments the Company holds. It represents the potential loss the Company might suffer through holding market positions in the face of price movements.

The Company's investment portfolio is exposed to market price fluctuations, which are monitored by the ACD in pursuance of the investment objective and policy as set out in the Prospectus.

Adherence to investment guidelines and to investment and borrowing powers set out in the Instrument of Incorporation, the Prospectus and in the rules of the Financial Conduct Authority's Collective Investment Schemes Sourcebook mitigates the risk of excessive exposure to any particular type of security or issuer.

If market prices at the balance sheet date had been 10% higher or lower while all other variables remained constant, the return attributable to ordinary shareholders and equity for the year ended 31.12.19 would have increased/decreased by £1,434,876 (2018: £1,129,236).

Foreign currency risk

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the value of the Company's investment holdings will fluctuate as a result of changes in foreign currency exchange rates.

The Company's investment portfolio is invested in funds that are registered overseas and collective investment schemes which invest in overseas securities, and the balance sheet can be affected by movements in foreign exchange rates. Revenue received in other currencies is converted to sterling on or near the date of receipt.

A portion of the net assets of the Company is denominated in currencies other than sterling with the effect that the balance sheet and total return can be affected by currency movements.

Net currency monetary assets and liabilities consist of:

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (Continued)

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the value of the Company's investment holdings will fluctuate as a result of changes in interest rates.

The Company does invest in fixed rate securities and so interest rate risk exposure is restricted to these and interest receivable on bank deposits or payable on bank overdraft positions which will be affected by fluctuations in interest rates.

Maturity of financial liabilities

The financial liabilities of the company as at 31 December 2019 are payable either within one year or on demand.

Liquidity risk

The company's assets comprise mainly of readily realisable securities. The main liability of the Company is the redemption of any shares that the investors wish to sell. Assets of the company may need to be sold if insufficient cash is available to finance such redemptions.

Credit risk

Certain transactions in securities that the Company enters into expose it to the risk that the counterparty will not deliver the investment for a purchase, or cash for a sale after the Company has fulfilled its responsibilities.

The company only buys and sells investments through brokers which have been approved by ACD as acceptable counterparties and fund management companies. In addition, limits are set to the exposure to any individual broker that may exist at any time and changes in broker's financial ratings are reviewed.

Fair value disclosure

The fair value hierarchy is intended to prioritise the inputs that are used to measure the fair value of assets and liabilities. The highest priority is given to quoted prices and the lowest priority to un-observable inputs. The criteria applied to the fair values levels in these financial statements are as follows:

A Fair value based on a quoted price for an identical instrument in an active market.

B Fair value based on the price of a recent transaction for an identical instrument.

C1 Fair value based on a valuation technique using observable market data.

C2 Fair value based on a valuation technique that relies significantly on non-observable market data.

Valuation Technique	Assets (£000's)	Liabilities (£000's)
A Quoted prices for identical instruments in active markets	14,349	-
Total	14,349	-

12 Contingent assets and liabilities

At 31 December 2019, the Sub-fund had no contingent liabilities or commitments (31 December 2018: £nil)

13 Post balance sheet events

As indicated in the accounting policies in Note 1, the investments have been valued at the closing valuation point on 31 December 2019. Since that date, the Fund's quoted mid-price has moved as follows for each share class:

Share class	Price (GBP) at 31 December 2019	Price (GBP) at 28 April 2020
